CLINUVEL Pharmaceuticals

ASX: CUV - ADR Level1: CLVLY Frankfurt/M stock exchange:

CEO Dr. Philippe Wolgen back on board – SCENESSE® for the treatment of vitiligo in North America marks a quantum leap in the business model - M&A in the USA as a catalyst.

The positive news flow from the past weeks clearly shows: Specific product developments and corporate projects are progressing faster than planned. A better visibility in user and doctor groups – as very successfully demonstrated at the AAD annual congress in Orlando, Florida – is an explicit goal and includes the capital market. The momentum is expected to increase even further, as Dr. Wolgen (the largest individual shareholder with 6.8%) is back on board after his full recovery and will particularly drive these topics forward with full force (CN 13.06.25). Meanwhile, the COO Lachlan Hay will relieve him of day-to-day operations as 'Acting' CEO until the end of september 2025.

The new strategy communicated since the turn of the year – first with the targeted North America approval in the indication of vitiligo, followed by NEURACTHEL® – opens up the opportunity for a leap in growth, in our opinion. The very important presence in the US country market is being expanded – also through M&A – (104 out of 120 treatment centers are active) and is ready for the treatment of EPP patients as well as eventually for the treatment of vitiligo patients.

The work for the approval (~FY28) of SCENESSE® for the treatment of vitiligo is progressing according to plan – with CUV104 (helpful NB-UVB required), CUV105 (ongoing), CUV107. The agenda is also being processed quickly in Europe, and there are plans to submit the application (CUV052) for the extension of the approval (adolescents aged 15-17) before the end of this year (CN 13.06.25).

PCR valuation: Low valuation; Risks are product and competition related.

INVESTMENT THESES

The existing business with SCENESSE® can generally expect to see revenue growth and high margins in the near future, as no alternative EPP treatments are expected soon, as developments among market competitors indicate. Under the new strategy, the approval (~FY28) of SCENESSE® for the treatment of vitiligo will first be pursued for the North American country markets (USA and Canada), which will make these country markets the most important customer region.

This will implement the second turnaround in the company's history. CEO Dr. Wolgen is leading this critical process after his full recovery and is initially focusing his efforts on the initiated M&A process, which aims to quickly reach critical size in the future dominating country market, the USA. In our opinion, the entire value chain should be the focus. The company is also in a strong negotiating position, as CLINUVEL's very good liquidity distinguishes it diametrically from many life sciences companies.

The high internal financing capacity is focused on three core projects, so that in our estimation, there will be no need to rely on external funding sources in the foreseeable future. On the other hand, we believe that the board will manage the use of profits (special dividends, share buybacks) more conservatively during this concentrated investment phase. The IR work intensified in 2024 through roadshows in Switzerland and Germany, as well as by expanding activities in the USA.

In the foreseeable future, decisions by EU regulatory authorities regarding the sought-after expansion of SCENESSE® use (to adolescent EPP patients) in Europe could provide positive impetus. CLINUVEL reported on June 13, 2025, about the successful treatment of a 9-year-old girl with severe EPP symptoms. Furthermore, the EMA-PRAC decision on the harmonization of the label (EPP treatment frequency) is expected to contribute additional growth and revenue impulses.

The recent focus of this development work on more advanced projects ultimately increases their market opportunities. Meanwhile, the chances of early projects are suspended for the time being, and the accelerated development work will take advantage of the larger, more immediate potentials. In principle, investment risk decreases as the breadth of the business model increases. This also applies within the framework of the strategic adjustment implemented at the turn of 2024/25. CLINUVEL has several development programs aimed at accelerating growth in the medium term. Systemic photoprotection (EPP) and skin repigmentation (Vitiligo) remain central.

The targeted approval (~FY28) of SCENESSE® for the treatment of vitiligo in North America and the market launch (~FY28) of the generic NEURACTHEL® (ACTH) are likely to be the biggest potential growth drivers.

Estimates and price targets remain valid. The defensive core business and strong balance sheet (no financial debt and high liquidity) justify an EV/EBIT premium. However, the EV/EBIT valuation (5.9x (26e)) is below the historical average (discount to competitors: roughly 40%). Strong operational performance - including successful cost management - in H1/FY25 demonstrates the solidity of the business model. The recent focus of the strategy with the targeted market launch of SCENESSE® for vitiligo treatment in North America has, in our opinion, increased the attractiveness of the stock. Active M&A activities are expected to place CLINUVEL on a new basis and enable rapid revenue and earnings growth.

We expect a strong news flow in the coming months as well. Investors are likely to appreciate this. The risk/reward ratio is improving. Furthermore, we see good chances that the upcoming EMA decisions regarding SCENESSE® for EPP treatment will create positive impulses.

Our estimates and the target price remain unchanged.

We reaffirm the Buy recommendation for the shares of CLINUVEL Pharmaceuticals Ltd.
