QUARTERLY STATEMENT AS OF SEPTEMBER 30, 2022

- › Acquisition of the Microbial Control business from the U.S. corporation International Flavors & Fragrances Inc. (IFF) completed on July 1, 2022
- › Third-quarter sales considerably above the previous year's level in all segments
- › Further increase in raw material and energy costs passed on to customers
- › Positive earnings contribution from acquired businesses
- › EBITDA pre exceptionals increased by 4.8% to €240 million in the third quarter
- › Earnings per share from continuing operations adjusted for exceptional items and amortization of intangible assets of €0.97 in the third quarter against €1.09 in the previous year
- › Extension of the "sustainable" revolving credit facility until 2026 strengthens available liquidity
- › Guidance for fiscal year 2022 specified: EBITDA pre exceptionals from continuing operations expected to be between €900 million and €950 million and thus significantly higher than the previous year's figure of €815 million after adjustment for comparability

REPORTING FOCUS AND MATERIAL TRANSACTIONS

On July 1, 2022, LANXESS acquired the Microbial Control business from U.S. corporation International Flavors & Fragrances Inc. (IFF). IFF Microbial Control is one of the leading providers of antimicrobial active ingredients and formulations for material protection, preservatives and disinfectants. As part of the acquisition, LANXESS took over two production plants in St. Charles, Louisiana, and Institute, West Virginia, U.S., as well as around 240 employees. The business also has a large network of partners including active ingredient manufacturers and formulators. The business was integrated into the Material Protection Products business unit of the Consumer Protection segment. The purchase price paid by LANXESS for the IFF Microbial Control business on the acquisition date amounted to around US$1.3 billion.

On May 31, 2022, LANXESS and Advent International ("Advent") signed a contract for the acquisition of the Engineering Materials business of the Dutch group Royal DSM. This business and the LANXESS High Performance Materials business unit are to be merged within a company for high-performance engineering polymers, which represents total annual sales of approximately €3 billion and is to be divided into three global business units. The transaction is still subject to the approval of the responsible authorities. Closing is expected in the first half of 2023.

Advent will hold at least 60% of the new company. LANXESS will receive an initial payment of at least €1.1 billion and a share of up to 40% in the future company. LANXESS will have the possibility to sell its stake in the newly formed company to Advent after three years at the earliest.

After contributing the High Performance Materials business unit, LANXESS will include its minority interest in the new company in the LANXESS consolidated financial statements using the equity method. Since the transaction is expected to be completed within twelve months, the High Performance Materials business unit already had to be reported as a discontinued operation in accordance with IFRS 5 as of June 30, 2022. The earnings contributions for 2021 and 2022 have been removed from income from continuing operations in the income statement and shown in a single line item as income from discontinued operations. The High Performance Materials business unit's intangible assets and property, plant and equipment are not subject to further amortization or depreciation and are recognized at the lower of carrying amount and fair value less costs to sell. No adjustments have been made to the statement of financial position for reporting dates prior to June 30, 2022. In the disclosures below, we have generally omitted any additional indication that prior-year figures have been adjusted relating to this.

As a result of the transaction, the LANXESS Group now comprises three segments. The Engineering Materials segment has been wound up and the Urethane Systems business unit, which was previously included together with the High Performance Materials business unit, is recognized as an other segment.

BUSINESS PERFORMANCE

Sales

Sales of the LANXESS Group amounted to €2,185 million, up by €604 million, or 38.2%, on the previous year's figure. The sales development was influenced in particular by significantly higher selling prices driven by raw material and energy prices. Overall, higher selling prices resulted in sales growth of 25.6%. The portfolio changes had a positive effect on sales at Group level, primarily due to the contribution from the IFF Microbial Control business acquired at the beginning of July 2022 and the contribution from the U.S. company Emerald Kalama Chemical acquired at the beginning of August 2021. Overall, there was a positive portfolio effect of 9.9% at Group level. In addition, the exchange rate effects led to an 8.3% increase in sales. Lower volumes, particularly due to weakening demand, resulted in a 5.6% decline in sales.

Prior-year figures restated.

The operating result before depreciation, amortization, write-downs and reversals (EBITDA) pre exceptionals amounted to €240 million in the third quarter of 2022, higher than the prior-year quarter. In the previous year, EBITDA pre exceptionals amounted to €229 million. All segments continued to record significantly higher raw material and energy prices, which were mainly passed on to the market through a successful increase in selling prices. In the Advanced Intermediates segment, which is particularly affected by high gas prices, the lower volumes due to weaker demand resulted in an earnings decline. The Specialty Additives and Consumer Protection segments saw positive business development, with the Consumer Protection segment benefiting to a large extent from the contribution of the IFF Microbial Control business acquired at the beginning of July 2022. Changes in exchange rates, especially a strong U.S. dollar, had a positive influence on earnings development in all segments. Please see the table below and "Segment Information" for details on the individual segments.

Primarily due to higher freight costs, portfolio effects, and exchange rate effects, selling expenses rose by 41.6% to €296 million. Research and development costs amounted to €26 million, compared to €25 million in the prior-year period, while general administration expenses amounted to €78 million, compared to €64 million in the prior-year period, partly due to portfolio and exchange rate effects. The Group EBITDA margin pre exceptionals came in at 11.0%, against 14.5% in the prior-year quarter.

Depreciation, amortization and write-downs rose by €21 million, or 17.6%, compared with the figure for the prior-year quarter to €140 million, primarily due to the acquisition of the IFF Microbial Control business and exchange rate effects. This includes write-downs of €3 million. In the prior-year quarter, write-downs amounted to €4 million. Net negative exceptional items of €35 million included in other operating income and expenses affected EBITDA by a total of €34 million and resulted primarily from expenses in connection with strategic IT projects, digitalization projects, and M&A and integration activities relating to the recently completed acquisitions. In the prior-year quarter, negative exceptional items totaling €42 million were incurred, €41 million of which impacted EBITDA.

Reconciliation of EBITDA Pre Exceptionals to EBIT

€ million	Q3 2021	Q3 2022	Change %	9M 2021	9M 2022	Change %

Operating result (EBIT)	69	66	(4.3)	215	276	28.4

Financial result

The financial result for the third quarter of 2022 was €54 million, compared with minus €10 million for the prior-year period. The net interest result was minus €19 million, compared with minus €14 million in the prior-year quarter. The other financial result was €73 million, compared with €4 million in the prior-year quarter. The improvement in the other financial result resulted primarily from the settlement of interest rate hedges through profit or loss of €83 million. These hedges related to the no longer planned issuance to replace a corporate bond expiring in November. Due to the expected proceeds resulting from the contribution of the High Performance Materials business unit to the planned joint venture with Advent, refinancing in the planned volume is no longer necessary.

Income before income taxes

In the third quarter of 2022, income before income taxes came to €120 million, against €59 million for the prior-year period. The effective tax rate was 29.2%, compared with 32.2% for the prior-year quarter.

Net income/earnings per share/earnings per share from continuing operations adjusted for exceptional items and amortization of intangible assets

Net income for the reporting period amounted to €80 million, of which €84 million was attributable to continuing operations. In the prior-year quarter, €40 million of the net income of €74 million was allocable to continuing operations. Net income of minus €4 million was attributable to discontinued operations in the third quarter. In the previous year, net income of €34 million was attributable to discontinued operations. The earnings increase in continuing operations resulted among other things from the contribution of the acquired IFF Microbial Control business and the settlement of interest rate hedges through profit or loss. Earnings per share are calculated by dividing net income by the weighted average number of LANXESS shares outstanding during the reporting period. Earnings per share amounted to €0.93, which was higher than the prior-year figure of €0.86. Earnings per share from continuing operations were €0.97 against €0.46 in the prior-year quarter.

We also calculate earnings per share from continuing operations pre exceptionals and amortization of intangible assets, which are not defined by International Financial Reporting Standards. This value was calculated from the earnings per share from continuing operations adjusted for exceptional items, amortization of intangible assets, earnings effects from the settlement of interest rate hedges in the third quarter of 2022 and attributable tax effects. Earnings per share from continuing operations adjusted for exceptional items and amortization of intangible assets were €0.97 in the third quarter of 2022. In the prior-year period, earnings per share from continuing operations adjusted for exceptional items and amortization of intangible assets had amounted to €1.09.

SEGMENT INFORMATION

As it was for the first time in the financial reporting as of June 30, 2022, the High Performance Materials business unit is accounted for as a discontinued operation in accordance with IFRS 5. The Engineering Materials segment has been wound up and the Urethane Systems business unit, which was previously included together with the High Performance Materials business unit, is recognized as an other segment. The previous year's figures have been restated accordingly.

Prior-year figures restated in accordance with the organizational reassignment of the business with benzyl products from the Advanced Intermediates segment's Advanced Industrial Intermediates business unit to the Consumer Protection segment in 2021.

Our Advanced Intermediates segment recorded sales of €642 million in the third quarter of 2022, up 30.5%, or €150 million, on the figure for the prior-year period. The sales development was particularly influenced by the sharp rise in selling prices in both business units, which were above the previous year's level as much higher raw material and energy prices were almost entirely passed on. Overall, there was a positive price effect on sales of 30.7% at segment level. In addition, shifts in exchange rates had a positive effect on both business units and increased the segment's sales by 5.9% in total. Lower volumes resulted in a sales decline of 6.1%. Compared with strong demand in the prior-year quarter, the Inorganic Pigments business unit in particular saw declining volumes, especially from the construction industry, due to weaker demand. Sales in all regions were above the level of the prior-year quarter.

EBITDA pre exceptionals in the Advanced Intermediates segment decreased by 18.8% to €65 million, compared with the previous year's figure of €80 million, and was particularly affected by the high energy costs. Higher freight costs and lower volumes also had a negative impact on earnings in both business units. The change in exchange rates had a slightly positive influence on earnings development in the segment. The EBITDA margin pre exceptionals was 10.1%, against 16.3% in the prior-year quarter.

Sales in our Specialty Additives segment rose by 30.9% in the third quarter of 2022 to €792 million. At segment level, the overall increase in sales of 23.1% resulted from higher selling prices due to the passing on of sharply higher raw material and energy prices. Shifts in exchange rates, especially for the U.S. dollar, had a positive effect on all business units and increased sales in the segment by 11.8%. In addition, a positive sales contribution of 2.6% was made by the business with specialty chemicals for industrial applications, integrated into the Polymer Additives business unit, of the U.S. company Emerald Kalama Chemical, which was acquired at the beginning of August 2021. The Lubricant Additives business unit slightly increased its volumes due to an ongoing recovery of the aviation industry, while the segment's other two business units reported lower volumes compared to good demand in the prior-year quarter. At segment level, sales volumes moved down by 6.6%. Sales in all regions were above the level of the prior-year quarter.

EBITDA pre exceptionals in the Specialty Additives segment increased by €19 million, or 18.6%, to €121 million in the third quarter. The strong earnings development resulted primarily from the further price recovery as a result of higher raw material and energy prices. Favorable exchange rate effects also improved earnings. In addition, good demand from the aviation industry had a positive impact on earnings in the Lubricant Additives business unit. Volumes fell short of the good prior-year quarter due in particular to slightly weaker demand and had a negative impact on earnings. The EBITDA margin pre exceptionals was 15.3%, against 16.9% in the prior-year period.

The segment recorded negative exceptional items of €1 million in the third quarter, which impacted EBITDA and primarily related to the adjustment of the production network in the North America region. In the previous year, negative exceptional items of €4 million were incurred, which impacted EBITDA. Please see "Notes on EBIT and EBITDA (Pre Exceptionals)" for details.

Prior-year figures restated in accordance with the organizational reassignment of the business with benzyl products from the Advanced Intermediates segment in 2021 and the transfer of the business of LANXESS Distribution GmbH, Leverkusen, Germany, from the "all other segments" category to the Flavors & Fragrances business unit effective January 1, 2022.

In our Consumer Protection segment, sales amounted to €662 million in the reporting quarter of 2022, up 60.7% from the prior-year level. This was particularly attributable to the sales of the Material Protection Products business unit, which includes the newly acquired IFF Microbial Control business. In addition, the Flavors & Fragrances business unit posted higher sales from the integration of the business with specialty chemicals for the consumer goods sector of U.S. company Emerald Kalama Chemical, which was acquired at the beginning of August 2021. Overall, there was a positive portfolio effect of 34.2% at segment level. All business units achieved higher selling prices, which pushed up sales by 24.5%. In addition, shifts in exchange rates, in particular the U.S. dollar, had a positive effect in all business units and overall had a positive influence of 5.1% on sales at segment level. The Saltigo and Liquid Purification Technologies business units also achieved higher sales volumes. The Flavors & Fragrances business unit in particular posted lower sales volumes, partly due to a planned maintenance shutdown that took longer than expected. At segment level, lower volumes resulted in a sales decline of 3.1%. Sales in all regions were above the level of the prior-year quarter.

EBITDA pre exceptionals in the Consumer Protection segment increased by €44 million, or 66.7%, compared with the prior-year level of €66 million. A positive earnings contribution resulted from the integration of the IFF Microbial Control business acquired at the beginning of July into the Material Protection Products business unit. The contribution from the Emerald Kalama Chemical business acquired in 2021 also had a positive effect on earnings. Higher selling prices and shifts in exchange rates, particularly of the U.S. dollar, had a positive influence on earnings in almost all business units. The lower sales volumes had a negative impact on earnings. The EBITDA margin pre exceptionals increased to 16.6%, against 16.0% in the prior-year period.

The segment recorded negative exceptional items of €12 million in the third quarter, which impacted EBITDA and primarily related to the strategic realignment of the specialty chemicals business and the associated integration of the newly acquired IFF Microbial Control business. In the prior-year quarter, exceptional items of €6 million were attributable to the segment result and related to the integration of Emerald Kalama Chemical. Please see "Notes on EBIT and EBITDA (Pre Exceptionals)" for details.

Prior-year figures restated in accordance with the reassignment of the business of LANXESS Distribution GmbH, Leverkusen (Germany), to the Consumer Protection segment with effect from January 1, 2022, and on the basis of the recognition of the Urethane Systems business unit as an other segment.

The sales reported in all other segments for the third quarter of the fiscal year and the prior-year period mainly relate to the business of the Urethane Systems business unit, which was transferred to this category from the discontinued Engineering Materials segment. EBITDA pre exceptionals for the reconciliation came to minus €56 million in the third quarter of 2022, compared with minus €19 million in the corresponding prior-year period, and resulted mainly from expenses for the business activities of the corporate functions. Due to the development of the U.S. dollar, there were also reductions in earnings resulting from currency hedges in the third quarter. In the third reporting quarter, negative exceptional items of €22 million were incurred, €21 million of which impacted EBITDA. The exceptional items resulted primarily from expenses in connection with strategic IT projects, digitalization projects and M&A activities. In the prior-year period, there were negative exceptional items of €32 million. Please see “Notes on EBIT and EBITDA (Pre Exceptionals)” for details.

NOTES ON EBIT AND EBITDA (PRE EXCEPTIONALS)

In order to better assess our operational business and to steer earning power at Group level and for the individual segments, we additionally calculate the earnings indicators EBITDA, and EBITDA and EBIT pre exceptionals, none of which are defined by International Financial Reporting Standards. These indicators are viewed as supplementary to the data prepared according to IFRS; they are not a substitute.

EBITDA is calculated from earnings (EBIT) by adding back depreciation and impairments of property, plant and equipment as well as amortization and impairments of intangible assets and subtracting reversals of impairment charges on property, plant, equipment and intangible assets.

EBIT pre exceptionals and EBITDA pre exceptionals are EBIT and EBITDA before exceptional items. The latter are effects that, by nature or extent, have a significant impact on the earnings position, but for which inclusion in the evaluation of business performance over several reporting periods does not seem to be appropriate. Exceptional items may include write-downs, reversals of impairment charges or the proceeds from the disposal of assets, certain expenses for strategic projects in the fields of IT and digitalization, restructuring expenses and income from the reversal of provisions established in this connection, and reductions in earnings resulting from portfolio adjustments or purchase price allocations. Grants and subsidies from third parties for the acquisition and construction of property, plant and equipment are accounted for as deferred income using the gross method. In this respect, no adjustments other than for gross depreciation and amortization are made when calculating EBITDA pre exceptionals.

Every operational decision or achievement is judged in the short and long term by its sustainable impact on EBITDA pre exceptionals. As part of the annual budget (target) planning process, targets are set for this benchmark of our company's success, which are then taken into account in determining variable income components for the Board of Management, senior executives and the rest of the workforce.

The earnings margins are calculated from the ratios of the respective earnings indicators to sales. For example, the EBITDA margin (pre exceptionals) is calculated as the ratio of EBITDA (pre exceptionals) to sales and serves as an indicator of relative earning power at Group level and for the individual segments.

STATEMENT OF FINANCIAL POSITION AND FINANCIAL CONDITION

Structure of the statement of financial position

As of September 30, 2022, the LANXESS Group's total assets stood at €12,265 million, up €1,737 million, or 16.5%, from €10,528 million on December 31, 2021. This development was attributable in particular to the acquisition of the IFF Microbial Control business and currency translation effects. Equity increased by €1,104 million compared with December 31, 2021, to €4,866 million. The equity ratio at the end of the third quarter was 39.7%, after 35.7% as of December 31, 2021.

Financial position

Changes in the statement of cash flows

The following comments on the statement of cash flows relate to LANXESS's continuing operations.

In the first nine months of 2022, there was total net cash inflow of €95 million from operating activities, against net cash inflow of €145 million in the prior-year period. Income before income taxes increased from €175 million to €278 million. In the reporting period, non-cash depreciation, amortization and write-downs amounted to €397 million, against €330 million in the previous year. The increase was primarily the result of higher assets due to the acquisition of Emerald Kalama Chemical in the previous year. For the first time, there was also depreciation and amortization on the assets of the IFF Microbial Control business acquired in the reporting quarter. The change in net working capital resulted in a net cash outflow of €597 million, compared with €368 million in the prior-year period. The higher net cash outflow resulted in particular from the increase in inventories due to the sharp rise in raw material and energy prices. The sale of receivables under the factoring agreement had an opposite effect of €134 million. There was net cash inflow from the reimbursement of income taxes of €37 million, whereas income taxes paid resulted in a net cash outflow of €14 million in the prior-year period.

There was a €1,010 million net cash outflow from investing activities in the first nine months of 2022, compared with a €86 million net cash inflow in the same period a year ago. The net cash outflow of the reporting period resulted primarily from the acquisition of the IFF Microbial Control business. In addition, cash outflows for financial assets or other assets held for investment purposes, primarily for the acquisition of shares of money market funds that can be sold at any time, resulted in net cash outflow. The net cash inflow from financial assets had the opposite effect due to the maturity of short-term money market investments. Cash outflows for the acquisition of intangible assets and property, plant and equipment resulted in a net cash outflow of €249 million, compared with €241 million in the first nine months of the previous year.

Net cash provided by financing activities came to €714 million in the reporting period, compared with net cash used for financing activities of €156 million in the first nine months of 2021. The net cash inflow in the reporting period was particularly due to the placement of a six-year Eurobond with a volume of €600 million. Further net cash inflow resulted from the borrowing of a bank loan of €300 million. The dividend payment of €91 million to LANXESS shareholders, the repayment of a private placement of €100 million, and interest paid and other financial disbursements had the opposite effect.

Financing and liquidity

Net financial liabilities totaled €3,746 million as of September 30, 2022, compared with €2,345 million as of December 31, 2021. The increase in net financial liabilities as of September 30, 2022, resulted among other things from the purchase price payment for the acquired IFF Microbial Control business unit and the dividend payment to LANXESS shareholders of €91 million. In the first half of 2023, LANXESS expects a significant reduction in net financial liabilities due to a payment of at least €1.1 billion from Advent for the contribution of the High Performance Materials business unit to the joint venture for high-performance engineering polymers.

LANXESS still has a sound liquidity position overall. This is secured in particular by undrawn credit lines of approximately €2 billion. We have extended the term of our "sustainable" revolving credit facility to 2026.

LANXESS continues to prioritize the retention of the investment grade rating.

Net Financial Liabilities

after deduction of short-term money market investments and securities	(100)	–
Net financial liabilities after deduction of short-term money market investments and securities	2,245	3,746

Provisions for pensions and other post-employment benefits totaled €363 million as of September 30, 2022, compared with €877 million as of December 31, 2021. This decrease was mainly due to an increase in the interest rates used for discounting.

OUTLOOK

In an environment still characterized by extreme uncertainty as a result of the war in Ukraine, a potential energy shortage, and the significant inflation of recent months, it is now clear that economic conditions are deteriorating, possibly leading to a recession. The further development of the geopolitical situation and the resulting problems in the supply of raw materials and energy represent an uncertainty factor for global economic development and for our business.

Massively increased raw material and energy costs, declining general demand in response to the drastic increase in inflation, central banks' interest rate hikes to counter this inflation, and continuing disruptions to global logistics and supply chains are tarnishing the outlook for the world economy.

Against this background, we are specifying our forecast for fiscal year 2022 and expect EBITDA pre exceptionals from continuing operations of between €900 million and €950 million. Compared with earnings of €815 million in 2021, we therefore continue to expect EBITDA pre exceptionals to be significantly higher than the earnings of the previous year.
